

CAN I SEE MY CHILDREN IF I HAVE BEEN DETAINED BY ICE?

ICE can allow your children to visit you during detention, even if they do not have a Social Security number nor are not US citizens

If a child welfare procedure is being carried out, it is possible for the judge to determine whether or not the minor can visit the detention center

If you want your child to visit you, let your worker and/or lawyer know about it

An alternative to the visit is a long phone call and writing letters to your children to stay in touch
